A Week of Camp Matters

Summer can be a busy time for families. We know you and your children are faced with many choices. This is why we work hard all year to develop and deliver programs that pack a punch in terms of faith formation and fun for your children. By integrating our core values of grace, service, leadership, and community into all of our programming, even a single week of camp can mean big changes in the life of your child.

A week of camp is an opportunity for your child to develop social skills and grow in character. Campers will gain a sense of success and self-confidence from trying new things, while developing empathy for those who are different from them. The benefits of camp don’t end when the week is over! The Living Water Ministries camp experience is truly a transformative, formational experience that will benefit your child’s development and prepare them for a life of grace, service, leadership, and community.

CREATE OPPORTUNITY
Fueled by God’s grace, campers have the opportunity to practice service, grow in leadership, and experience community.

GRACE
Your child practices love for their neighbor as they explore service opportunities for each other and the world.

SERVICE
Your child gains confidence and new skills to be leaders in their communities, schools and congregations.

LEADERSHIP
Your child experiences love and acceptance while being nurtured to discover their gifts in an intentional community built on God’s grace.

COMMUNITY

Our Vision
Fueled by transformative experiences of faith through the grace of Jesus Christ, Living Water Ministries provides opportunities to practice service, develop leadership, and experience community in the confident hope that the world might also be transformed.

transformation experiences
As a former camper and cabin counselor at Stony Lake, it’s an understatement to share with you that camp has changed my life! At a young age, camp gave me the opportunity to be loved and accepted in a way I had never experienced before. Christ was modeled to me in the encouragement I received from my cabin-mates, my counselor, and the entire camp community!

In college, upon returning to Stony Lake to serve as a Cabin Counselor, I was immediately humbled by the campers in my care, the depth of their faith, and the communities they formed with one another week after week.

Now, as a parent I highly value the camp experience for my son, Logan. The opportunities for him to be loved and cared for by a trusted community gives him opportunities to learn about himself and engage others that exceeds my ability to provide alone. I encourage you to explore the opportunities & benefits a week of camp holds for your child.

Camp has been part of our family’s DNA since the beginning. We met as counselors at a Presbyterian camp in northern Michigan and were married there a few summers later. When we had our son, Isaac, we knew that raising him surrounded by the love of a Christian camping community would encourage him in his self-confidence, love of God, and love of others. So far, we have not been let down.

We both have witnessed the power of God at camp to change the lives of campers, families, summer staff, and even camp directors. God’s grace is shown and shared in some amazing ways at camp as community forms and we disappoint and delight one another over and over again. It’s that grace that changes us and that grace that doesn’t leave us when we leave camp.

Elementary Programs

Campers start off their camp experience by connecting with God’s creation at Stony Lake or Michi-Lu-Ca. As we nurture our relationship with the natural word, we deepen our appreciation of all that God has created, including ourselves! Our elementary camps offer a great opportunity to try new camp activities and participate in fun Bible studies, inspirational campfires and worship.

Junior High Programs

Community is at the cornerstone of our Junior High Programs. At camp, we can drop the defenses we often carry with us the rest of the year and learn to show God’s love to one another and receive that love ourselves. Campers become part of building a great camp community through team-building activities, low and high ropes courses, and shared time spent learning more about God and each other.

Senior High Programs

Christian faith is lived out as leadership and service. In each of our Senior High Programs campers practice leadership for the church, their communities and beyond. By practicing skills and sharing unique gifts with the camp community, our programs allow campers to see, imagine, and experience their faith in new ways. Campers leave transformed and ready to transform the world.

Service Trips

Service Programs encourage students to make positive changes in communities through well-rounded volunteer service opportunities that touch areas of poverty, human services, advocacy, and the environment. We believe that by educating young people on social justice issues, engaging them in meaningful service and empowering them to be agents of change, we are fostering a new generation of leaders grounded in the ethic of community involvement in the name of Christ.
